Upwards Into Infinity

Mommy, I don't know what else I can say but I do feel that this week we are going to have more proof, strong proof that this planet, this red planet, with its long tail is coming towards us on planet earth. I feel that many will start realizing that this is no joke and that all the things that we have been talking about and have appeared in the more silent media are about to come true IY"H.

I feel a deep sadness in my heart and in my body. I feel a catastrophe of enormous proportions about to hit the earth. I feel overwhelmed by the thoughts of the future events, but together with that I feel at the end of the terrible difficulties, there will descend on the earth and its survivors a feeling of calm and an unbelievable feeling of relief. After that there will again be a war that will test our Bitachon, the trust in Hashem of His survivors, the Jewish people.

But we will see such great miracles, such great Nissim that all our fears will disappear and we will feel a closeness to Hashem that we did not think possible. Then after that, we will enter the Bais Hamikdosh, which will be ready for us after having descended complete from Shomayim. After that we will enter the most holiest place with the feeling of relief which will turn into the greatest Simcha that we have ever expressed and that will begin our journey upwards into infinity.
